

TREMENDOUS LEAD OF THE TRIBUNE

Local Advertisers Show in Unmistakable Terms Their Endorsement

It is conceded that the consensus of opinion among local advertisers is an unflinching guide by which strangers to the merits of publications are enabled to decide what newspapers are the best advertising mediums.

The verdict of La Crosse merchants is in favor of The Tribune by an overwhelming majority. Following will be found a tabulation of local display advertising inches used in The Tribune The Chronicle and the Leader-Press respectively:

kauna and Manasha have organized with a stronger line up than last year but Fond du Lac and Appleton are both holding to join Dilieli.

Fond du Lac is making a decided effort to join the Wisconsin league but up to the present time has not succeeded and the official schedule recently issued does not give either Fond du Lac or Madison a place on the schedule. However, President Powers is anxious to have Fond du Lac come in. Appleton fans are displaying a lack of interest owing to the absence of suitable grounds.

Madison's New Team.

Barry, who pitched for Boston last year in an American league team, and made an excellent record, is manager of the new team Madison seeks to enter the league with. The Madison team played in Freeport yesterday and made a good showing.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Underwood entertained Mrs. Kinnear and Mrs. Solberg.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Oyen and Mr. and Mrs. Soderberg formed another group. At another table were Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott and Mr. Hurchens. There were a number of other little parties and all seemed to enjoy the occasion.

ENTERTAINS AT THE STODDARD.

That the Stoddard is increasing daily in popularity was evinced last night when the dining room was taxed to its utmost capacity seating one hundred and fifty guests. Dana's orchestra filled the air with delightful music, fragrant and beautiful flowers saluted the eye on all sides and attentive waiters ministered to the wants of the guests. Many took this opportunity to entertain friends and many were the jolly little groups which filled the tables. Among those who entertained were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richards who had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Maurer and Captain and Mrs. W. A. Thompson.

Mrs. Amelia Ryder entertained the members of the Monday Whist club. Mesdames L. B. Dickson, Andrew Nevins, R. F. Weston, George Powell, J. L. Pettingill, Anna Clarke and S. S. Hebbard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Farnam and children and Mr. Robert Calvert filled a table, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hirshheimer and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Case found another.

There are people—many of them—living in this city who have never been in your store. Your store will not be completely successful as long as this is true, and it will be true until your advertising corrects it, as it will when it gets strong enough.

PRISONERS TOSS MCGINTY FROM CART

Little Game Warden Gets Two Prisoners But They Get Away From Him

Losing four prisoners in two days and only effecting the capture of one, is the unfortunate record which befell James McGinty, deputy state game and fish warden who came to the city to conduct a campaign against illegal fishing and hunting with the assistance of Warden Kingsley of this city.

While the escape of his prisoners was the most aggravating to Mr. McGinty it could not be helped. McGinty was simply unfortunate in getting hold of a rather reckless bunch that would take the chance of getting away.

McGinty had no warrant for the arrest of the two men he caught fishing with a seine Saturday and could not hold them. A few hours later after securing a warrant he and the sheriff called at their homes only to find the boys had departed bag and baggage. They suspected trouble and made a clean getaway.

Early this morning McGinty and Kingsley arrested Julius Storkerson and another young man, name unknown, on French island. They had one duck in their possession at the time of arrest. The prisoners were hustled into a buggy and started for down town. On the north side Mr. Kingsley got out and went home. McGinty continued toward the south side, sitting on the knees of his two prisoners. When the buggy had reached a place on Mill street where there were a number of people the two prisoners suddenly lifted McGinty from their knees and gave him a toss into the street. Then they jumped out the other side of the buggy and ran, leaving McGinty holding the reins. He could not leave the horses and the men dodged away in the crowd. Storkerson was rearrested a short time later at his work as wire chief for the La Crosse Telephone company and arraigned before Judge Brindley. His hearing was set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. His companion has not been located.

LIGHT CROWDS ROBBERY IS EXPOSED

Alderman Rose Shows Streets are Lighted Part of Time Only

The light trust crowd, who seem to find considerable satisfaction in claiming that Alderman Walter Rose never says anything in the council, were given their "satisfy" at last Friday night's meeting, when he exposed one method the light trust has of robbing the city and taxpayers.

The sentiment expressed by Alderman Rose found an echo in the mind of every alderman present and then and there was evolved a determination to submit to no further graft in street lighting along the lines pointed out by the alderman from the Thirtieth if their personal work could prevent it.

The warning was sounded when the committee on lights reported a deduction of only $1.15 in the amount of the La Crosse Gas and Electric company's monthly bill for failing to keep the street lamps lighted as required by contract.

"This penalty should be many times its present size," said Alderman Rose. "I want to call the attention of the aldermen and city officials to the conditions in their own localities. All over the city the light company makes a practice of putting out the street lights at various times and leaving the streets in darkness. The penalty clause in their contract should be more rigidly enforced. I would suggest that every alderman make it his business to report every street lamp he finds out during the night and that the police make it their business to watch the lamps and register every failure of the company to keep the lights on at night. This neglect of the company is an imposition on the tax payers and a clear violation of the contract the company has with the city. The penalty clause should be enforced to the letter. Personally I can cite numerous cases where lights in the Thirtieth ward have been out for hours at a time. Just the other night, while going home from a council meeting with another alderman, we saw a couple of lights out. Literally the company is required to keep the lights burning from sun down to sun-up but usually the company waits until heavy darkness has settled over the city before turning on the lights. I think, your honor, that this street light matter is a thing that requires our attention."

CAMPAIGN AGAINST ILLEGAL FISHING

James McGinty of Darlington, a deputy state game and fish warden, has started a campaign to stop illegal fishing in this vicinity. Without the knowledge of local officials he has been here for a day or two gathering evidence.

Two fishermen who have been seen in the sloughs south of the city were intercepted after they had made a haul.

Having no warrant McGinty could not arrest them at the time but he discovered their identity. When a warrant was taken out this morning the boys had flown, suspecting that there was liable to be trouble.

It is the custom of the fish and game department to send wardens into strange territory where they are not known, it being possible in this way to obtain evidence of violations of the game and fish laws which the local warden could not secure on account of being "spotted" by the law breakers.

Leone Allendorf to be Sent to Reform School

Because she is willful, unruly and untruthful and none of her relatives care to undertake further the task of bringing her up, Miss Leone Allendorf, the fifteen-year-old daughter of the late George Allendorf, who was killed by a pistol bullet on Third street several years ago, will probably be committed to the state industrial school for girls late this afternoon.

According to the evidence taken before Judge Brindley this morning all of her relatives had had a turn at caring for her. After her father's death when a small child she was taken in charge by an uncle in Chicago. Here she had every advantage but the family could not control her and she was finally shipped to an aunt in Kansas City. Two years ago she ar-

THE CLOTHING PROPOSITION SOLVED

M. & C. NEWBURG have made a new discovery—a discovery that interests every man who wants at a moderate price clothes that have all the richness and the distinguishing features and earmarks of $40 and $50 Suits. The discovery is that of the makers of these high grade garments, who fashion them by a "System" all of their own, and whom, so far as we know, no one has been able to imitate. The illustration above is the reproduction of one of our snappiest styles. While the engraving is excellent, it hardly does justice to the clothes. See them for yourselves. Every young man who sees the beautiful styles becomes an enthusiast, and says there is nothing like them in La Crosse. We carry all sizes in stock. SUITS and OVERCOATS by this "System" $20, $22, $25, $28

MOURNED LOSS OF HIS SUIT

Leo Moseley, the "cowitch" man who was sentenced to a year at Wau-pun for stealing 20 boxes of cigars here, exhibited no compunctions of conscience when he arrived at the penitentiary yesterday in charge of Acting Sheriff Lang except to bemoan the fact that he was about to lose his "sixty-dollar" suit of clothes. Moseley endeavored to have Mr. Lang intercept with the warden and have his suit laid by so he could get it when his term was up. The custom at the state prison is to disrobe each prisoner and give him a regular prison suit, presenting the suit taken away to the first man liberated whom it will fit.

AT THE THEATRES

"Uncle Si Haskins" will be presented at the La Crosse theatre Friday night and Sunday matinee and night at popular prices. This piece which tells the pretty story of real life and a secret marriage, delighted Iowa audiences and should be well patronized here.

Romantic comedy in its most spectacular and spirited aspect is what may be expected by those who visit the La Crosse theatre on Saturday, April 21, to see that favorite young star, Paul Gilmore, in his newest play, "Captain Debonnaire," a dramatization in five acts of William Farquhar Payson's popular novel, "Debonnaire." The seriousness and sentiment of the play are nicely balanced by keen wit, brisk humor and a scenic investiture which, aside from being unusually attractive to the eye, is a true picture of the times—the late 17th century in Quebec and New York. Mr. Gilmore was never more successful in portraying a difficult character than he is with the handsome and redoubtable Louis le Debonnaire. His triumphs in the role have been even greater than those he won in "The Three Musketeers," "The Tyranny of Tears" and "The Mummy and the Humming Bird."

Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism. I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I have spells of terrible pains in my ribs, and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away.
I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills done me more good than all the other medicines. I first heard of them through the following circumstance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs.
Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of our name in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of relief from such a source after doctoring for so long, but took one one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so related that she went to the druggist's and got a package and took them home with her. Recently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

a while. He found out that his line was held at the option of "Chicago interests" by reading it in The Tribune, and now he knows it is so.

Did the Tribune lie when it said that an Ice Trust had been formed? The promoters of that monopoly indignantly declared the story was a lie for two whole weeks, but finally acknowledged its truth.

Did The Tribune lie when it told of the leasing of the Central plant at the time Mr. Gelatt et al "acquired" a "gift" of Common Stock that Mr. Felber of the E. R. Barron company swore on the witness stand was "worth 10 cents," and "ruled from 30 to 40 cents" and that he sold his TO HIS FRIENDS at 50 cents? Two men have admitted this on the witness stand, and Mr. Gelatt will have a chance to corroborate them or put them in a hole.

Did The Tribune lie about the option on the street car and Light Trust properties? No, for the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock admitted that fact two weeks after it was printed in The Tribune.

Did The Tribune lie about the Leader Chronicle public printing conspiracy? No, for the city authorities say they know that story was true.

Did The Tribune lie when it said the Gelatts are trying to stop the Central dragnet by buying up the stock of the plaintiffs with Philo's check "dated June 2nd"? No, it did not, and reputable men will support this story.

Neither did The Tribune lie about the amalgamation of the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock. That will be proven to the satisfaction of everybody, even should Mr. Cargill decide to publish an "affidavit" that it is not so. Talk about your real liars!

Mr. Gelatt publishes a newspaper devoted to the dissemination of the "news" his boss wants published, and to the suppression of the things his boss wants suppressed, and to the advertising of "medicines" and "devices" that makes the word "muck" sound respectable in comparison. If these things The Tribune has said about him and his gang are untrue, why does he not throw out a little of the plate and make room to deny them? He has never denied that he "acquired" that Common Stock. He has never denied that he asked John Willing, "Who is The People's Gas Company?" He has never denied that he and Mr. Cargill's immaculate and accomplished Jim entered into that public printing conspiracy? He has never denied that story about the "Chicago interests." He has never denied that he is trying to evade the perils of the witness stand by buying up that Central stock with Philo's check, "dated June 2nd."

We challenge Mr. Gelatt to cite a single instance in which The Tribune has lied. We challenge him to show a case where we have published a local story of importance that was not substantially correct. We challenge him to deny that we have more circulation than he has by at least 1,500, and when the representative of the Association of American Advertisers arrives here a few days hence he will have a chance to prove that "lie," unless as before he decides not to let anyone count his circulation, "for business reasons." We challenge him to deny that the businessmen of La Crosse have expressed their approval of and confidence in The Tribune by giving it during the past two weeks 5,790 inches of display advertising while they gave Mr. Gelatt's Evening Common Stock 3920, which is 1,870 inches less?

Well, this is a lot of space to give an unhappy old party who is listening to the time-keeper "counting 10" on his billionaire aspirations, and if any of our readers have suffered financial loss as the result of this waste of columns, we beg permission to reimburse them by presenting them with our check, "dated June 2nd."

ROOSEVELT'S ADVICE.

There should be RELENTLESS EXPOSURE of and attack upon every EVIL MAN, whether politician or BUSINESS man, EVERY EVIL PRACTICE, whether in politics, IN BUSINESS, or in social life. I HAIL AS A BENEFACTOR EVERY WRITER, or speaker who makes such attack, provided always that he in his turn remembers that the attack is of use only if it is ABSOLUTELY TRUTHFUL.—From Roosevelt's "Muck-rake" speech.

IT IS TO LAUGH!

In a late edition of an advertising "newspaper directory" the following circulation statements appear:

Chronicle	6,506
Leader-Press	6,379
Tribune	3,500

It is no more than just to give the Leader-Press the benefit of the facts—it did not go so far as to swear to its circulation "Hyperbole."

Perhaps, however, that is the number the organs circulate in a week?
The actual circulation of the Morning Organ is near 2,100, and of this number a large percentage are received under protest by "subscribers," to whom they are sent without expectancy of payment.

The Evening Organ circulates a few copies less than this.
These statements, it should be understood, are furnished by the publishers.

The Tribune is ACTUALLY READ by 20,000 people daily.

THE STATE PRESS

A Worthy Effort.

Our readers will pardon us if we boast a little about last week's Post.
It was one of the most complete issues we have ever put out. In addition to containing all the regular county and city news, including three four letters from correspondents, it had election returns from thirty-four towns and villages in this vicinity, and the largest advertisement ever printed in a paper in this city, the eight column ad for the Fair store. And, despite the large amount of work, necessitating much labor at night, the paper was issued promptly on time. It is a record of which we are justly proud.—Waupaca Post.

THE MUCK THAT WE RAKED.

Speaking of The Tribune and the "Brayton-Barber crowd," Mr. Gelatt said in his struggling paper Saturday night that we are "liars," and that "a liar is worse than a thief." We deny that we are worse than Mr. Gelatt.

It all came about in this way. The Tribune "tipped off" the combination of the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock, and Mr. Gelatt was mad. He was so mad that he wrote a scurrilous editorial more than usually pregnant of the aroma of the barnyard. Just what it is that the choleric old gentleman dips his pen in when he has those fits one hesitates to guess aloud; if its constituency is ever discovered it will likely be detected by the sense of smell. Of course he didn't deny the story, because it is true and he knows people must soon know it is true; he simply said in a sweeping way that the very small and dirty nosed boy says, when in want of real argument—he said, "You're a liar!"

President Roosevelt made a speech in which he commended fearless prosecution of wrongdoers, but deprecated unfounded libel. In a forcible metaphor he mentioned promulgators of groundless slander as "muck rakers." Thereupon all the newspapers in the country that are the tools of corporate or business or political dishonesty wrote editorials shouting "muck rake" at all the decent newspapers in the country. In this state The Milwaukee Sentinel shouted muck rake at the Milwaukee Free Press, because the Free Press has sent some twenty-seven scoundrels to the penitentiary and many of these criminals were political allies of The Sentinel. In La Crosse The Leader-Press shouted "muck rake" at The Tribune because The Tribune busted the Light Trust, exposed the Ice Trust, tipped off the street car deal, thwarted the public printing conspiracy, announced the amalgamation of the Morning Laughing Stock and the Evening Common Stock, exposed the Central Common Stock deal relative to which a suit is now pending that Mr. Gelatt trembles to face and can't buy off with Philo's check, "dated June 2nd," and all these things are the pet projects of Mr. Gelatt and his crowd.

But Mr. Gelatt didn't tell the truth about that speech. He said that President Roosevelt said that, "The liar is worse than the thief," but he carefully avoided mentioning that this statement was preceded by this emphatic declaration from the lips of the president:

"There are in the body politic, economic and social, many and grave evils, and THERE IS URGENT NECESSITY FOR EARNEST WAR UPON THEM. There should be relentless exposure of and attack upon every evil man, whether politician or business man, every evil practice, whether in politics, in business or social life. I HAIL AS A BENEFACTOR EVERY WRITER OR SPEAKER, EVERY MAN WHO, ON PLATFORM OR IN BOOK, MAGAZINE OR NEWSPAPER, WITH MECI-LESS SEVERITY MAKES SUCH ATTACK."

So The Tribune has earned the right to be regarded as a public benefactor by President Roosevelt, and so Mr. Gelatt says that The Tribune is a "muck rake" because it attacked him. Granted that The Tribune is the "muck rake," and we beg leave to refer the gentle reader to Mr.
Gelatt for the muck. How appropriate that, after we have been raking a man over the coals for months he should have the stupid accuracy to term us, "the muck rake."

Apropos of Mr. Gelatt's interpretation of the "muck rake" speech, is it not an interesting fact that President Roosevelt anticipated just such misconstructions of his words as that of which The Leader was guilty, and interpolated a caution in these words:

"Now it is easy to twist out of shape what I have said, easy to AFFECT to misunderstand it. Some people are incapable of understanding that to denounce mud slinging does not mean the endorsement of white washing."

Mr. Gelatt says that The Tribune publishes nothing but lies. He is said to have said that it lied when it told of the option given on the street car-Light Trust properties. Young Mr. Edwards thought so, too, for

MADISON PAPERS RAP LA CROSSE BREWERY

The following comments in Madison papers attack a La Crosse brewery for the alleged shipping of a carload of beer to Madison to be used in the election fight for the saloon interests:

The Madison election demonstrated that beer is quite as suitable to higher education as champagne. A beer bout of university students last Friday night, at which 354 bottles of beer were drunk, seems to have given so much emphasis to the fact that the faculty threaten wholesale expulsions. Milwaukee Journal.

It is reported that the La Crosse brewery which sent a small saloon stock to Madison to vitiate student morals resents interference by the faculty in their relations with students and wants to know what it is if it can't do business as it pleases here. This will be new doctrine to the people of the state. Why not let the brewery run the university at long range?—Madison Journal.

The Madison Democrat makes an assertion concerning the recent municipal election in that city which is important if true. It says: "The full iniquity of the late election in Madison has not yet been exposed. The utter depravity of the methods employed to influence the student vote will make a story wholly new to the understanding of the good people of this community. The truth is essential to awaken the electorate to a sense of its full duty. It will come out when all the data are obtainable. It is a story exhibiting the natural affinity of the so-called student athlete with the bum methods of the most degraded of political gangsters." This is interesting to outsiders having sons at the university, as well as to the people at Madison. Why should not the matter be looked into, in the interest of all concerned?—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

A brewery that brings no higher moral standard into its business methods than that displayed by the La Crosse concern when it attempted to debase a large number of university students for the mere advertising of its product or to aid in the celebration of a saloon victory, deserves the general condemnation it is certain to receive from the press and people of the state. Morals disregarded, it was a senseless stroke of business policy. The effrontery of the liquor interests is simply astounding; and while this may be an extreme case, it is a marker to show the thoughtful whether we are drifting—or rather, whether we are permitting the organized liquor interests to lead us. The local agent who did the honors so shamelessly for the beer makers at least deserves advancement in his disreputable specialty. His spirit is not that of the student—his inspiration becomes a nefarious influence. The faculty will disappoint expectations if it fails to deal with this disgraceful episode in a manner commensurate with the brazen nature of the proceeding. But such an escapade will have a most useful effect even beyond the local purifying which it entails. It will promote throughout the state an awakening sentiment which ultimately will give us a $1,000 liquor license, such as the Ohio legislature recently established. This will be a momentous gain. Brewers may celebrate saloon victories at the polls and advertise their wares if they choose to supply free beer to make maudlin scores of university boys forms an act to which the fathers of these sons will offer prompt and angry dissent.—Madison Democrat.

SILVER PITCHER WAS STOLEN

It has just been learned here that the silver pitcher formerly the property of the late Governor C. C. Washburn which was presented to the public library a few days ago by A. Hirschheimer, was stolen from the home of Mrs. A. Kelsey, a daughter of Governor Washburn, in Philadelphia ten years ago. The pitcher was part of a set consisting of two pitchers and a goblet, all of which were taken at the same time.

The pitcher was presented to Mr. Hirschheimer by Rabbi Krauskopf of Philadelphia and it is probable that through the latter the remainder of the service can be traced. Mrs. Kelsey learned of the presentation of the pitcher to the library which her father ther founded through the newspapers and immediately wired to a friend here, Mrs. A. G. Nevins of 121 South Ninth street, for any information which could be furnished. Mr. Hirschheimer could only refer her to Rabbi Krauskopf and from him she will be able to ascertain the location of the junk shop in which he found the pitcher. The sole purpose of Mrs. Kelsey is to locate the missing pitcher and goblet.

1,841 Suits for $10 Against Northwest- ern Road

Charles Miller, of New London, is to bring 1,841 separate suits against the Northwestern Railway Co., claiming $10 each for that number of locomotive engines that crossed his field. Some time ago Miller sued the company for $18,410 damages, and the attorney for the road demurred against the filing of a claim for the amount collectively. The demurrer was sustained, and separate action has been planned. The amended complaint, now in the hands of the printer, will be the heaviest legal document ever filed in Outagamie county. The three copies which are being made will weigh fifty pounds.
